

Careers

Social Media Research Assistant (maternity cover)

Full time, based in London

CST is currently recruiting a Social Media Research Assistant (maternity cover) from February 2019 to support the social media research work of the Social Media Research Manager, staff and volunteers of the Research Department. The role ideally suits someone with social media skills and a genuine interest in countering antisemitism and terrorism. The role primarily involves helping the Research Department's immediate response to incidents reported to CST as well as follow-up investigations.

Duties include:

- using techniques and tools to gather information
- perform daily monitoring on entities of interest to the Research Department
- assisting the Social Media Research Manager in the timely and effective storage and dissemination of the results of online research
- assisting in developing new research strategies and tools
- looking for trends in social media behaviour
- training and supporting research staff and volunteers in social media work

The ideal candidate should have:

- Good communication skills
- A large capacity to learn
- The ability to deal with confidential matters
- Excellent time management skills
- The ability to work well under pressure and re-prioritise tasks as needed

Applicants are invited to submit their CV together with covering letter to careers@cst.org.uk, writing 'Social Media Research Assistant (maternity cover)' in the subject heading.

Closing date for applications: 31 December 2018 but may close earlier if a suitable candidate is found.